The academic appointments policy establishes the standards and procedures for appointments of individuals who will have teaching functions. The University asserts the importance of ensuring that our students are taught by individuals who have appropriate qualifications and who are recognized as teachers and enjoy the privilege of academic freedom.Â Revised policy title to Administrative Policy: Academic Appointments with Teaching Functions, formerly Administrative Policy on Academic Appointments. General Information on Graduate Student Academic Appointments. Student Academic Employment positions provide the single largest source of UC Santa Barbara graduate student support. They also constitute an important aspect of graduate training under faculty guidance.
