Salinas City vs. HAMILTON -- The condemnation suit of Salinas City vs. Samuel HAMILTON was tried in the Superior Court here yesterday before the following 9 jurymen: John KALER, D. COY, M. SCHMECHEL, H.J. TOLLETT, Jud PARSONS, Wm. BARLOW, S. HORTON, A.J. ADCOCK and A. METCALF. N.A.DORN was counsel for the City and the defendant was represented by T. BEEMAN and J. E. RICHARDS. The land sought to be taken by the City is 14 feet frontage on Main street and 130 feet deep on the north side of Central Avenue at its junction with Main street and the same quantity of land on the south side of the Avenue, in order to make it a uniform width of 75 feet. After hearing the testimony and listening to the arguments of counsel the jury fixed the price to paid by the City as follows: South side of Avenue, $95 per foot fronting on Main street, and $105 per foot on the north side, which, under all the circumstances, is considered a fair price.

October 28th, 1888 Hamilton awarded $400.00 for the property and reimbursed $41.00

The Steinbeck Review, Vol. 10, No. 2 (2013), pp. 118-140. Although each of Olive and Ernst's children became a member of St. Paul's, the parents waited until May 28, 1905, following the birth of their fourth child Mary, to have John, age three, and eleven-year-old Beth christened with their infant sister. Curiously, the children's group baptism took place at the Steinbeck home rather than in the church, a statistical anomaly within parish records and Episcopal practice of the period. In the parish baptismal register, "Mary L. Martin" and "J.R. Hamilton" are listed as sponsors—the Episcopal version of godparents—for Mary, while "Eliz. Bailey" and "Thomas" Hamilton are listed as John's sponsors, and "Eliz. Farrell" and "Will Hamilton" appear as sponsors for Beth.

John Steinbeck is known for giving a voice to the migrant workers of the Great Depression. Read our guide to learn more about this extremely difficult time. The great John Steinbeck is best known for his works set during the Great Depression, particularly those that focused on migrant workers. The Grapes of Wrath, a winner of the National Book Award and Pulitzer Prize, and Of Mice and Men are two of his well-known works that are set during this highly stressful period. These books will teach anyone who reads them about the Great Depression, especially how it affected migrant workers. Through his works, Steinbeck was able to give a voice to the overlooked.

Bust of John Steinbeck © Marco/Flickr. When It Rains, It Pours. John Steinbeck was a celebrated American writer famous for his novel, "The Grapes of Wrath". Read on for detailed information about his childhood, profile, career and timeline. John Steinbeck was a famous American author known for his novels of rustic settings, like 'Of Mice and Men', 'Tortilla Flat', 'The Grapes of Wrath', and 'East of Eden', amongst several others. This talented writer has inked as many as sixteen novels amongst a total of twenty-seven publications. Another novel by John, 'The Moon Is Down', published in 1942, describing a resistance movement held in Northern Europe, became quite popular with readers. The book was adapted into a movie, and it was presupposed that the resistance was being held in Norway, against the Nazis. John Steinbeck had two sons; Thomas Steinbeck and John Steinbeck IV. John (IV) died on January 7, 1991 immediately after having surgery on a ruptured disc. What is John Steinbeck's full name? John Ernst Steinbeck John Ernst Steinbeck. Did John Steinbeck have any kids?
