Promise Keepers is an Evangelical Christian parachurch organization for men. While it originated in the United States, independent branches are established in Canada and New Zealand. Promise Keepers is self-described as "a Christ-centered organization dedicated to introducing men to Jesus Christ as their Savior and Lord, helping them to grow as Christians". Promise Keepers is a non-profit organization, not affiliated with any Christian church or denomination, which opposes same-sex marriage and Promise Keepers' most notable event was its Stand in the Gap: A Sacred Assembly of Men open-air gathering at the National Mall in Washington, D.C. on October 4, 1997. C-SPAN carried the event live in its entirety. It was reported at the time to be the largest gathering of men in American history, surpassing even the Million Man March.[2] Admission to the regional rallies can cost $60 USD, which has caused some numbers to drop, with many men opting to attend the free Washington rallies instead. McCartney resigned as president on October 1, 2003 after a personal leave of absence.Â Standing on the Promises: The Promise Keepers and the Revival of Manhood. Cleveland, OH: The Pilgrim Press.
