The Good Shepherd: Meditations on Christian Ministry in Today's World,

For the first Christians, who were familiar with shepherds, the Good Shepherd was a favorite image to associate with Christ. In fact, the earliest Christian art depicts Christ as the Good Shepherd, not the crucified Savior. Often he was portrayed as a beardless youth. Knowing about shepherds sheds light on the image of Jesus as shepherd. The shepherd uses a staff with a hook on the end to guide the sheep and pull back the stray. Today Jesus guides his flock through bishops, who are known as pastors, the Latin for shepherds. Bishops carry staffs called crosiers. Shepherds were important in the world of the Old Testament. Without the shepherd and his dog, the herd of sheep could not survive, and this led to the use of shepherding as an image of ministry. THE GOOD SHEPHERD is an especially poignant image for the Christian pastor, since it refers to one whose love for his flock issued in the ultimate sacrifice - the agony of death upon the cross. In this selection of essays adapted from talks delivered to members of the Church of South India, Lesslie Newbigin deals candidly with problems which face pastors in every age.Â He points out the merits of various biblical models of the ministry and discusses several facets of the pastoral task, e.g., preaching, guiding the worship service, administering church discipline, resolving conflicts within the church, clarifying the church's responsibility in the social sphere, and promoting church leadership.

Christian circles. In this article I want to reclaim meditation as one of the essential spiritual disciplines for all believers, according to the Bible. 6. Christian meditation must be distinguished from the sort that we find in eastern religions or more recent new age fads. For example, unlike eastern meditation, which advocates emptying the mind, Christian meditation calls on us to fill our mind with God and his truth. Nowhere in the Bible is the "mind", per se, described as evil or unworthy of being the means by which God communicates with us. What the Bible does denounce is intellectual pride, but not the intellect itself. It is humility that we need, not ignorance. I stand opposed to arrogant and cynical intellectualism.
